Coping with sub zero temperatures while looking stylish is all about layering. Layering not only keeps you warm, but also makes any outfit infinitely more interesting.

If the change of season makes you want to cuddle up in the biggest sweater possible, you are in luck. These sweaters are statement making and practical so you can stay warm while looking chic.

The Highlands of Scotland

Our World Expedition tour has stopped in the Highlands of Scotland, where classic fashions reflect a commitment to superior tailoring and traditional cable knit sweaters are always on trend.

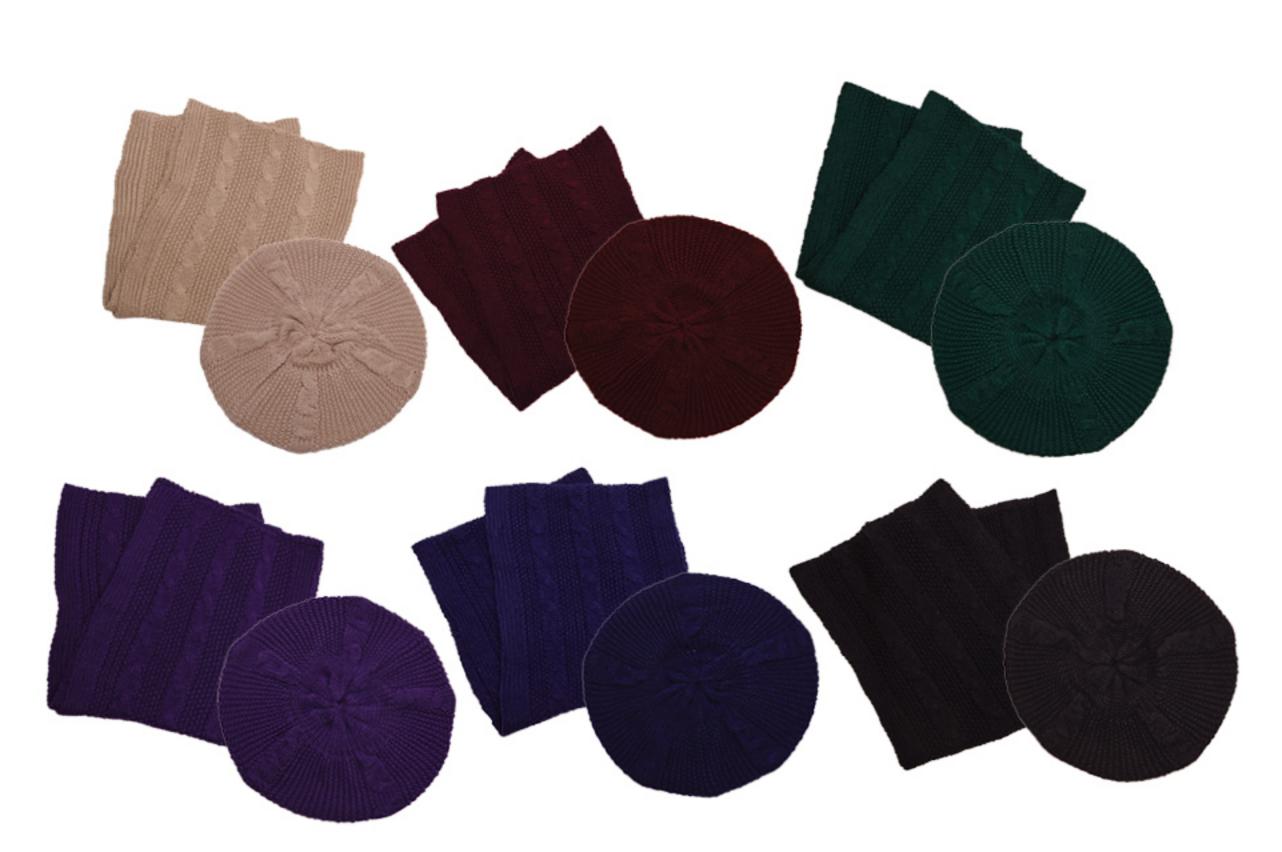

Each design has a relaxed shape for maximum style and every silhouette is fitted for an easy, no fuss approach to dressing for the modern women who is constantly on the go. The results are an American sportswear collection with a classic Scottish twist, perfect for the change of season.

As always, thank you for shopping Antthony on HSN, and remember you can shop 24/7 online at www.AntthonyOriginals.com. All of my designs come in petite, missy and women's sizes, and the versatility and exceptional value of this collection offers something for every woman's wardrobe.

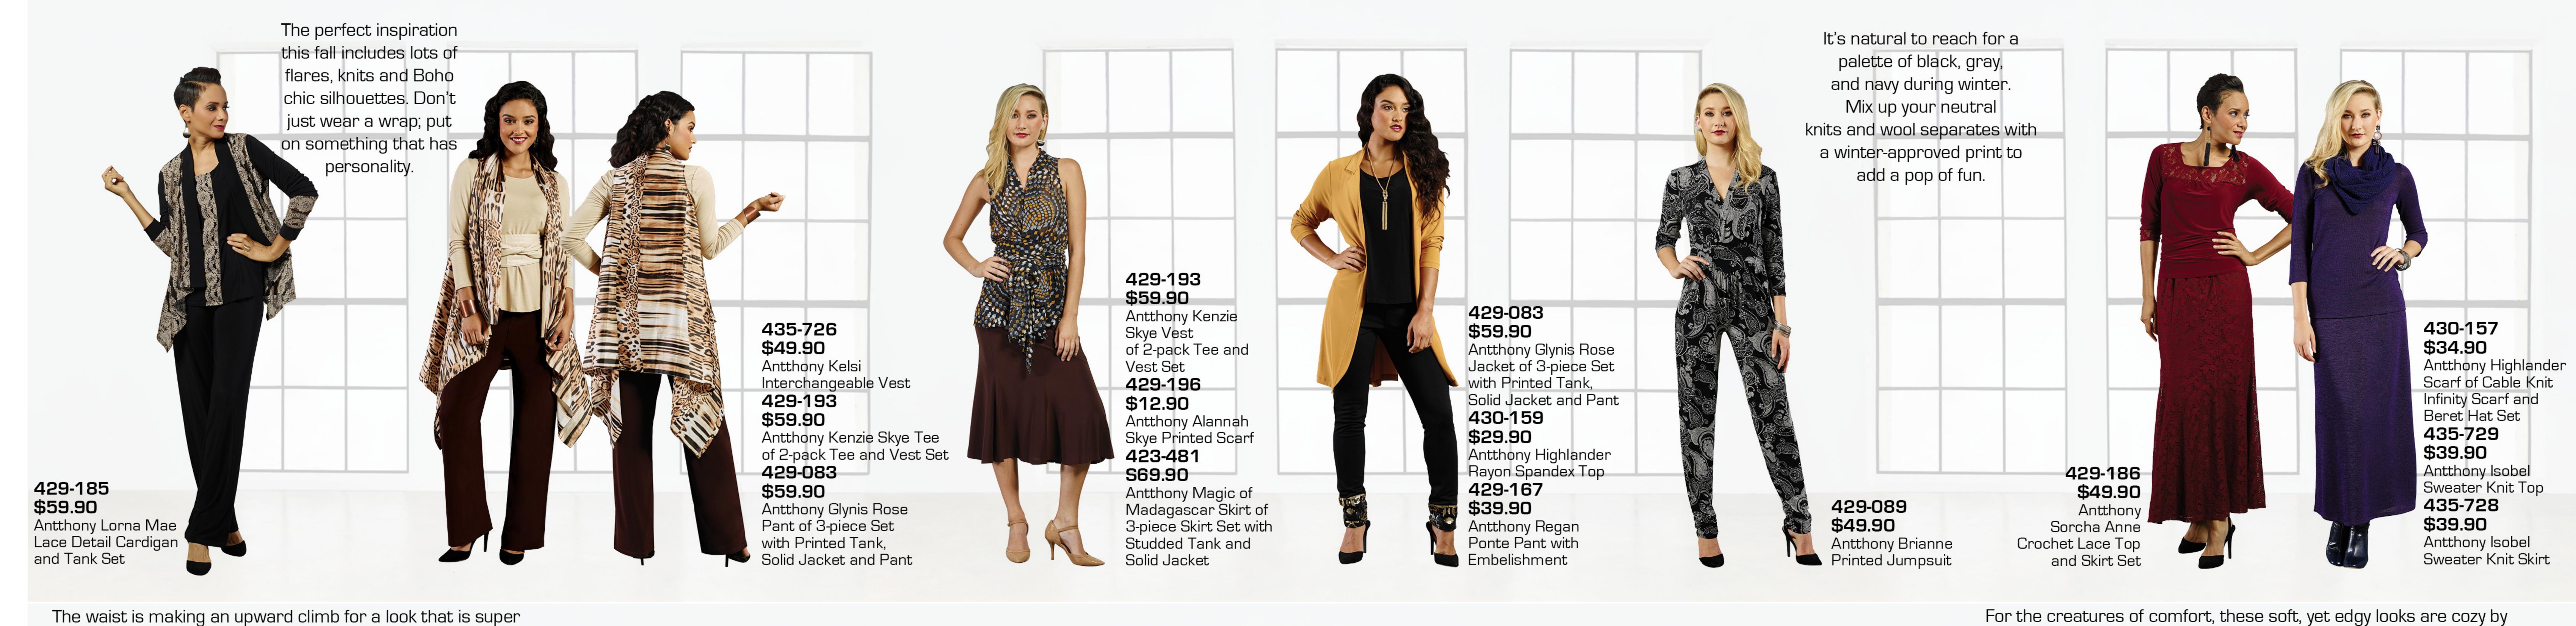

Be sure to tune-in to HSN on Sunday, September 27th at 8am, 2pm and 3pm when I will share my best Scottish-inspired looks for the season. You can also find Antthony's Today Special on Wednesday, September 30th at 12am, 1am, 5am, 7am, 11am, 12pm, 4pm, 5pm or 10pm on HSN. I look forward to sharing my designs during the live premiere of the Antthony Scottish Highland World Expedition Fashion Collection!
